

POPULATION GIVEN AS 5,622 FOR 1920

Census Figures For Richmond Announced At Washington, But Not Large Enough

(By Associated Press)
Washington, May 15.—The census shows Richmond, Kentucky, to have a population of 5,622, an increase of 282, or 5.3 per cent.

Few who know the history of Richmond during the past ten years will accept the above figures as representing the true population of Richmond, and like other cities which have felt that they were being incorrectly represented by the 1920 census, plans are already taking shape for a recount.

Mayor L. P. Evans said Saturday morning that he would co-operate in any way toward having a census taken by the city, and other prominent business men who feel that Richmond has over 6,000 population within her boundaries, say that they will do their part.

As an evidence that quite a number were omitted from the census returns from Richmond Mr. M. J. McSweeney, of the Richmond Welch Company, said Saturday morning that eight people connected with his firm, had not been listed by the census takers of Richmond, so far as he can ascertain.

Then again hundreds of new homes have been built in Richmond within the past ten years. And yet there is not a house for rent in town today and not an empty one.

High Compliment For Music Festival Soprano

The following from the San Francisco Chronicle, dated April 11, 1915, at the opening of the Exposition, will be of interest to music lovers of Richmond:

"Last night's performance of Haydn's immortal 'Creation' at Festival Hall was an occasion of surprising thrills and the regal appearance of a new soprano. The thrills came with the tremendous tone of the male department of the Pacific Choral Society. The noble singer was Mary Ann Kaufman, who restores to the lonely name of Mary Ann its queenliness."

"Miss Kaufman sang the roles Gabriel and Eve. Her voice has tenderness, flexibility and smoothness. She sings with the utmost delicacy the florid phrases of 'with verdure clad' or offers the devotional and sublime 'The marvelous work behold,' with such big fervor and enthusiasm and released vocalism as to bring tears to the eyes and thrills to the heart. She has a luscious, sympathetic true-as-steel and divinely melodious voice, and won golden applause. No one will ever forget Miss Kaufman's soft, 'with verdure clad,' or her marvelous interpretation of 'On Mighty Pains.'"

Miss Kaufman, now Mrs. Mary Ann Kaufman-Brown, will be heard in the Music Festival here on Friday evening, May 21st.

CRES. CARSON NOW ON WYOMING FARM

D. C. Carson, better known as "Creswell" Carson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Carson residing on Broadway, is one of the large number of returned soldiers who have gone west and are "growing up with the country." He has purchased a quarter section of land in Fremont county, Wyoming and will make that his future home.

Carson, who is a graduate of the State University at Lexington and with his studies, and he had the same recommendation from his superior officers when he emerged from the service of Uncle Sam. He had a good record here before he started into school, the army or to the farm, and should be continued to do as well, his friends predict for him a most successful future. His farm lies along the Fremont Lake Irrigation canal and is said to be very valuable. Mr. Carson is preparing to wrestle with his first crop this coming fall. Here's hoping that it is a bumper.

Big Land Deal In Boyle

The place contains 840 acres and the consideration was $225,000. This is one of the finest farms in Boyle county. Possession will be given the first of January. The sale, which was the biggest land deal ever consummated in Boyle county, was engineered by B. G. Fox. The Messrs. Rankin some days ago sold their farm in the Camp Dick Robinson neighborhood to James L. Hamilton, of Lancaster, for $250,000. The place contained nearly 700 acres.

PACKED WITH LAUGHS

The motion picture coming to the local theatres Monday is declared to be a laughing cure for the blues as well as an inside tip to young wives who are suspicious of their equally young husbands. It's called "What's Your Husband Doing?" and features Doris May and Douglas MacLean, the two lively and attractive young players whom Thomas H. Ince recently raised to stardom. The story concerns a newlywed wife, played by Miss May, who suspects the scented notes received by her husband every morning and bearing the crest of a notoriously speedy roadhouse, "Honeysuckle Inn." The wife enlists a youthful lawyer in her aid, whose "better half" is in turn jealous of him and—well, there's amusing complications galore and it all ends in a big police raid and explanations and a happy ending at the police court the next morning. It's a Paramount Artercraft picture.

Bobbie Roth, of Washington, is showing the way to the base stealers with nine thefts. Ty Cobb has not yet fully recovered his batting eye. In 21 games the Detroit star has made only 18 hits for an average of .243.

Outfielder Nicholson, of Pittsburgh, has taken the lead among the national league batters. He is hitting .455 for 12 games, with Roger Hornsby, the St. Louis star the runner-up with .414, one point in front of Lebourveau, of Philadelphia. The averages include players who have participated in ten or more games.

Williams, of Philadelphia and Robertson of Chicago, are tied for home run honors. Each has whacked out three round trips.

BANK PROTECTION DOUBLY ASSURED

Noted Pinkerton Agency to Take Hand In Suppression of Crime

Bankers of Richmond, all of them, are to be recognized as the foremost in the state of Kentucky, in being represented by a new phase of protection by Pinkerton National Detective Agency and will doubtless be followed by banks throughout the state, which is being canvassed by representatives of the noted organization held in constant dread by the criminal. Banks throughout the state, which are ty comes with great satisfaction upon the part of the bankers, and, for the first time, absolutely insures against any and all losses from small forgeries and petty thefts, to the celebrated cracksmen, general safe blowing etc. The unlimited service, offered by the agency will not only be represented at the banks of the city, but a number of jewelers. Depositors in Richmond banks are not fearful of losing their savings, should a robbery occur, as a matter of fact, however, they will be ably assured henceforth, that "nothing of the sort" which might happen, will cost them anything. This is the first time, it is believed that the great organization has been officially represented by the Richmond business men in this general manner and is a compliment to them in the way of desiring all possible protection to themselves as well as their depositors.

The agency, as is generally known, operates on a world-wide basis, and the fact that the insurance of the banks has been included in its category of investigations, renders it all the more important. Mr. H. H. Boulware, of Cincinnati, was a visitor in the city Friday, and as a result, the four banks of Richmond soon become patrons of this insurance feature.

The banks will be provided with cards which will be hung in the windows, signifying that they and their depositors are guaranteed safety thru the operations of this great institution. Kentucky has lately been the scene of operations upon the part of a gang of very persistent and successful bank robbers during the several months past and this extraordinary degree of safety will, it is believed, cause them to hesitate, since they will have the shrewdest class of man-hunters in America, to contend with if a robbery is pulled off.

The fact that all of the bankers of the city become affiliated with the agency is indicative of the progressiveness of the city and Richmond will be at the head of the list thus represented.

PERHAPS THEY HAD REAL HAM--AND?

(By Associated Press)
Columbus, Ohio, May 15 Expense accounts of public officials have come under discussion in Ohio with the refusal of the state auditor to pass an expense account turned in by several judges. When the auditor held that $5.40 was too much for even a judge to pay for a day's meals out of the state's money, one of the jurists wrote vigorously in protest. The auditor replied in kind. Judge Willis Vickery and Judge T. S. Dunlap, both of the appellate court at Cleveland, and State Auditor A. V. Donahy are the officials concerned.

Replying to Donahy's ruling in a three page letter, Judge Vickery requested to be told on what authority the state auditor supervised his expense accounts, Donahy answered: "Judge when a man eats $5.40 worth in one day to keep body and soul together, as Auditor of State I do not consult the law, as the guardian of the taxpayer's money, I consult my conscience."

LONNIE WHITAKER AT MARINE SCHOOL

Perhaps the most novel military school in the world is established at Quantico, Va., where U. S. Marines are given instruction in the trades, arts and sciences. NEW MUSIC FOR MADISON SCHOOLS

Big Carnival Booked For Fall and City Will Be In Gala Attire

There will be a change in the music in the schools of Madison county this year, the second year that music has been prevalent in every school of the county, this record is rivaled by few counties in the state. Every teacher in Madison county, although it is vacation time, is hard at work, studying. This method of keeping abreast of the situation which was inaugurated last year, is proving very beneficial. The colored teachers of the county are said by Supt. Edwards to be among the most energetic employed.

Their examinations will take place on May 21 and 22 and it is expected that there will be better averages this year than last, since the persistent study upon the part of the instructors during the vacation period will result in an improvement generally.

Plans are to be under way soon for the school carnival to be held in Richmond and this affair will outdo former ones, in point of elaborateness and extensiveness, if the theories of the County Board and Supt. Edwards are realized.

It is hoped that the street paving will have been completed by this time and that the city will be in good condition to receive and entertain the hundreds who will be here. It is the intention to provide abundance of music and to give the children a treat in the way of a day of enjoyment. The program has not been completed, however, nothing will be amiss in the way of entertainment, parents of children from the entire county, as well as others will be allowed to witness a spectacle in the way of a children's pageant that is seldom if ever equalled by a county school. Definite plans for the event will be announced later.
